Weak Points in Game Laws.

Capt. Joseph W. Collins, formerly of this city, chairman of the Massachusetts Fish and Game commission, addressed the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective Association Wednesday evening. He discussed some of the weak features in existing statutes, and urged the propriety of legislation to secure the distribution of fish fry and birds, only by paid deputies; that deputies should have the same right to search for game birds held illegally as they have now in regard to lobsters, and that some additional measures should be adopted to prevent the extermination of lobsters.

Late Fresh Herring.

John Nagle yesterday received at Boston from down east 13 barrels of fresh herring, the latest of the season. Mr. Nagle has also handled two carloads of frozen herring from down east the past week.

Political.

The ward one republican committee met last night and organized by the choice of James L. Hodgdon as chairman and R. Elwood Pinkham as secretary.

Herring Notes.

The Western Star of Jan. 8 says there are seven American and three Canadian vessels now in North Arm loading herring; at Middle Arm there are several Canadian vessels and one American. All these vessels will load this week, as herring are plentiful. The past few days there has been keen frost and little or no delay will be experienced in freezing the fish.

Sch. Tattler, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, was at St. Jacques, N. F., last week taking herring.
